The President, Senator Sumner and San Domingo

The following dispatch from Washington (Dec 25) to the New York Times contains matter of interest in connection with the San Domingo affair and Senator Sumner's bitter and uncalled for attack on President Grant

There seems to be considerable misapprehension in the public mind as to the character of the debate in the Senate last week, and also in regard to the attitude in which it has left Mr. Sumner The main point at issue now has in reality no direct relation to the San Domingo question The merits or demerits of that proposition are laid aside for the time being, and the question discussed here now is this "Shall Mr Sumner, after having uttered such offensive language in regard to the President, and after having offered an affront to the Senate itself be permitted to remain at the head of the Foreign Relations Committee?" Going back to the debate itself, it should be said that it was the intention of the friends of the resolutions, not all of them friends of annexation either, to take no part in the debate, but to permit the other side to do all the talking, and then quietly vote the resolutions through Even Mr Morton who wanted to reply to the argument of Mr. Sumner's speech, supposing there would be argument in it, finally consented to forego his speech with this purpose in view This agreement would have been kept, and no Senator of the other side would have said a word but for the extraordinary personality of Mr. Sumner's remarks It was not until late at night that such men as Edmunds and Conkling became aroused and determined that such language as Mr Sumner had uttered should not receive the tacit indorsement of the Senate by their failure to rebuke it The phase of the matter now most serious is therefore entirely personal The merits of the question of annexation are not involved Mr Sumner, or any other member of the Senate, has a perfect right to oppose annexation without feeling the displeasure of the Administration, but no Senator, not even Mr Sumner, can place himself in an attitude of bitter personal hostility to the head of the Administration, and then insist on retaining a position whose influence is as vital to its success as is that of a Cabinet officer Mr Sumner gives out that he is still an Administration man, and some of his friends are intimating that, if a caucus is called, he will disclaim any intention of being personal in his remarks, and that thus smoothed over he will be allowed to remain in his position, but in this they are mistaken, If there is any backbone left in the Senate, Mr Sumner can only remain where he is by disavowing in open Senate his offensive remarks as fully and as openly as he uttered them A caucus explanation won't do. The whole question is now reduced to a serious personal quarrel Mr Sumner has placed himself in a position where it is impossible for the President to have any intercourse with him, even through the Secretary of State as intermediary If he appreciates the position, he will relieve the situation of all embarrassment by voluntary retirement, otherwise the Senate will have an unpleasant but imperative duty to perform The President views the matter with entire calmness Whatever he says to his visitors on the subject is devoid of passion or bitterness He thinks that as the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate is the sole medium through which all our dealings with foreign nations must pass for judgment and review, its head should be a man with whom the Administration can be on terms of friendly intercourse. The onus of relieving the matter of all difficulty is, therefore entirely upon Mr. Sumner

The Fighting in France

Accounts by mail show that the recent fighting before Paris on the Loire was far fiercer and more terrible than at Woerth, Gravelotte and Sedan, and the destruction of life was far greater The new troops of France stood up courageously against the German battalions which had swept away the entire Imperial army, and inflicted upon the Germans greater losses than they had suffered before in the war The new levies the raw half-trained forces that the French have assembled, held their ground on the Loire before the terrible artillery fire of the Germans though whole battalions went down at every discharge, and the ranks as fast as filled disappeared like mist At Versailles just after the great sorties from Paris, Bismarck said to an English correspondent, 'We have been losing four thousand men a day for a week,' which indicates the fierce character of the fighting. A correspondent of the New York Times writes

The fighting goes on The French Army of the Loire has retreated, but it may mass better when more successful south than it was north of the river It could scarcely fight better than it did before Orleans, where its engaged forces were, as usual overwhelmingly outnumbered In that fierce fight one of the fighters says he could neither see nor hear for the infernal din The shells came in showers, cutting deep holes in the hard frozen ground The butchery was terrific, the wounds ghastly. The Prussians were very strong in cavalry, eighty four squadrons—and made great use of it They first disordered the French infantry by artillery fire, and then plunged down on it with heavy masses of cavalry, using in single charges three thousand horsemen And the French as a rule fought well The heavy losses of the Germans show it The officers were heroic The Duc de Luyrus, formerly of the Papal Zouaves, charging at the head of his company of Mobiles, had one half of his chest carried away by a shell, and was killed instantly He was thirty two years old, killed on the third anniversary of his wedding, and his youngest child is but six weeks old Capt Hozier writing from Prince Frederick Charles' headquarters at Pithiviers, says The battle of Beaune-la Rolande was a real tough fight while it lasted and I have never I think, seen the dead lie so thick as where the French columns tried to storm Beaune After a very severe action, they were driven back with great loss, but as it was already dark, they could not be pursued for any distance '

The talk about leaving our debt to "succeeding generations ' unless we pay it as rapidly as it has been paid during the past year is mere folly In no possible contingency will many 'succeeding generations have any thing to do with it If paid at the rate of the past year it would be wholly extinguished in half the life time of a single generation If the payments were reduced to a half or a third of the amount, it would still be liquidated at a comparatively early period Besides, a moderate rate of taxation adopted now and furnishing a reasonable surplus, would be constantly producing a larger revenue, from the growth of business and the expansion of wealth It is estimated that this annual increase would be not less than fifteen millions Under such circumstances we need not be very much concerned about what 'succeeding generations' will suffer from the burdens we may bequeath them In no case is it likely to be as hard upon them as upon us

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 11.

French Claim a Victory.

BORDEAUX, Jan 10 —The Moniteur publishes the following

"ROUGE MONT DEPARTMENT DOUBS, Jan 9 —A battle was fought north of this place to day ending at seven in the evening, with a victory for our armies Night prevents our ascertaining the full extent of our success The General commanding Bivouaces on the center of the battle field and all positions are occupied by our troops. We carried Villersexel which was the key of the enemy's position with shouts of 'long live France and the Republic!"

LONDON, Jan 11.—Gen Faidherbes' cavalry had an encounter with the enemy on the 8th and 9th, and met with success.

German Claim a Victory

VERSAILLES, Jan 10 —The army of General Chancey is retreating at all points Germans are in pursuit and have already taken 1,000 prisoners In the engagement on the 8th with Garibaldians at Mont Bard in Department of "Cote de Or," our troops were victorious

Von Werden advanced yesterday on Villersexel and took the place by storm The twentieth French corps was engaged and lost 22 (27) eagles The French attempted to retake the position but failed

BERLIN Jan 11 —The Queen has received the following from Headquarters

VERSAILLES, Jan 10 —Owing to the snow storm the heavy fire of the bombardment is slower to day

Peronne has capitulated with 3,000 prisoners

General Werder defeated Bourbaki on the 9th south of Vesoult He took 500 prisoners

VERSAILLES, Jan 10 —The French works at Belancourt are reported devastated For Nogent has ceased firing In Fort d'Issey 14 guns have been dismounted Shells have been thrown into the Paris and Lyons railway station. It is rumored that the Hospital of Invalides has been hit

Dispatch from Brussels

BRUSSELS, Jan 10.—Penord, former Minister of the Empire, has been arrested for alleged political intrigues, and sent to Lyons guarded

Intelligence from Paris confirms the report that bread riots have occurred in the city. A collision between the mob and military has taken place

Prussian shells on the 5th, are said to have fired part of the city. Early capitulation is predicted.

Another Cable to be Laid

LONDON, Jan 11 —The scheme for a direct cable from London and Liverpool to New York, has been organized here under the best auspices Capital $3,250,000, three-fourths of which has been subscribed already If one fourth be quickly taken, the American cable will be laid in July

A Piratical Scheme

NEW YORK, Jan 11 —Aspinwall dates to the 31st, say A plan was organized to seize the steamship Ocean Queen, which sailed from New York Dec 3d Gen Regan, of Cuban celebrity, took passage under the assumed name of Ashbury, on the Ocean Queen, after shipping 2 000 cases of arms and ammunition Two or three hundred Cuban troops were expected to go aboard as passengers, and when two days out seize the steamer, and troops and arms somewhere on the island of Cuba and then release her Two hundred United States troops, for San Diego, California, were on board the Ocean Queen, which so alarmed the Cubans that they did not embark, and Regan went to Aspinwall alone, landed arms etc, and awaited the arrival of the Hornet

General European News

LONDON, Jan 11 —Dresden journals say that Austrian railroad officers refused to forward goods and coal to Baden Bach, Saxon Minister at Vienna, protested against this action

VIENNA, Jan 11 —Semi official organs here declare the approaching Conference must uphold the validity of treaties, and insist that modification is possible only by general consent When the amendment to the treaty of Paris is proposed by Russia, it is essential that it should be accompanied by concessions and compensations to other Powers.

LONDON, Jan. 11 —Great anxiety is felt in Liverpool for the safety of the City of Brooklyn, which is reported as having lost the fans off her screw, and is proceeding under sail Nothing further has been heard of her

Another French Defeat

LONDON, Jan 11—The columns operating against Chancey drove him within a mile of Lemans after a severe engagement, capturing one cannon, a mitrailleuse and 200 prisoners

Werder's loss at Villersixel was 200

A large German army is forming east under a special command, including the corps of Werder, Zastrow and others

Later from Paris

LONDON, Jan 11—A balloon from Paris in the evening of the 10th, brings the following

There has been a slight engagement near Malmaison and Rueil, and on the Strasbourg railway The Germans were repulsed with considerable loss Thousands of balls fell within the outskirts of Paris in all directions during the night, killing some women and children, striking ambulances, churches, museums and schools The population are more than ever resolute Trochu will not capitulate.

French Official Report

BORDEAUX, Jan 11 —The following is official The Germans on the 10th redoubled their efforts against Chancey who pressed on all sides retired to his original position The action was hotly disputed, one brigade resisting six hours The losses are considerable on both sides. Bourbaki commanding the army of the east telegraphs that he passed Tuesday night driving the enemy from Villersexel and Lisle

The army of the North has advanced beyond Bordeaux

LONDON, Jan 12 —Faidherbe surprised the German rear guard, killing thirty and taking fifty nine prisoners He lost none The French have entered Bopaume

There was an explosion at the Remshaw colliery near Sheffield to-day Twenty one persons killed and nine injured

WASHINGTON CITY

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Jan 11 —The Senate resumed the consideration of the resolution as amended by the House, for the appointment of a commission to go to San Domingo, the question being upon Sumner's motion to amend the House amendment by adding thereto that the Commissioners shall inquire especially into the alleged pendency of civil war in Dominica and the state of the territory occupied by the opposing parties, as to the relations between the existing government of Dominica and the neighboring Republic of Hayti, and the pendency of any claim, territorial or pecuniary, by the latter upon the former, and whether any war now exists or is menaced between these two governments

The Senate Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads agreed to-day to report favorably upon the bill to establish a line of American steamers between San Francisco and Australia, stopping at Honolulu, and one or two other ports and granting an annual subsidy, for twelve years, of five hundred thousand dollars, with the consideration that thirteen trips be made each year

WASHINGTON, Jan 11 —Ex Senator Wade, President White, of the Cornell University, and Bishop Simpson, to whom appointment as Commissioners to Dominica has been tendered, had not up to noon to-day signified their acceptance Gen Franz Siegel has accepted the appointment as Secretary of the Commission The President was informed this afternoon by Ex Senator Wade and President White of the Cornell University, that they accepted the appointment of Commissioners to Dominica Bishop Simpson's engagements compel him to decline and no other person has as yet been appointed in his place

The nomination was made to-day of Silas A Strickland, of Nebraska, as Governor of Utah Territory

The Secret France Prussian Treaty

A Washington correspondent writes The recent statement of M Benedetti, late French Minister at Berlin, published in the London Standard, regarding the authenticity of the famous secret treaty, and the part he had in the same, renders the opinion of Mr Bancroft on the subject very interesting Concerning this notable matter, he wrote to Secretary Fish as follows

AMERICAN LEGATION, BERLIN
July 27, 1870.

SIR To-day I have to send you an authentic copy of one of the most remarkable documents ever framed by a European statesman Some time ago (the exact date is uncertain) M Benedetti, the French Ambassador, proposed to Count Bismarck at a time when France was in profound peace with England and with Belgium, to enter into an offensive and defensive alliance for the purpose of gaining the consent of France for the union of Germany on the one side, and the consent of Germany to the annexation of Belgium and Luxembourg to France on the other You may rely implicitly on the authenticity of the document of which I inclose a copy, for I have seen the original, in the handwriting of Benedetti which handwriting is very well known to me As an expression of contempt for the restraints of international law, the document may rank with the late declaration of war by the Emperor against Prussia, but it has moreover the character of a defiance of Great Britain

The London correspondent of the Times, "Monadnock," writes that "the feeling in Germany towards England is one of the most unaccountable phenomena of the situation It fills the press it is testified to by all tourists in Germany and the English correspondents at Versailles declare that everybody, from King William to the smallest private soldier, says England is responsible for this war Every wounded German believes he has been wounded with an English bullet Every widow and orphan in Germany blames England for the sad bereavement ' There is no use in reasoning with them about it, and nothing short of an active and positive demonstration of sympathy will reconcile the Germans to John Bull or convince them that he is not their bitterest foe

Amnesty

Amnesty bills in several forms have recently been presented in Congress, but none of them has been adopted Probably the one most in favor is that presented by Bingham of Ohio If adopted it will leave only about two hundred persons without the benefits of complete amnesty In this number will be included the chiefs of the rebel government and the men who abandoned positions in the national Congress to go South and organize the rebellion

It is evident that a very general amnesty will come ere long but the people of the United States will fully sanction the proposition of Bingham to exclude from amnesty forever the leading characters of that causeless revolt. This is not necessary as a measure of safety for the country, for Jeff. Davis could not now do more harm in the Senate than a man like Col Kelly, but it is a punishment which should be perpetual The chief men of the rebellion should all their lives rest under the ban and feel the displeasure of the American people.

The President states that he proposed to include the subject of amnesty in his message, and that the omission to do so was accidental With reference, however, to removing the disqualifications for holding office imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment, his view is that the people of the South should first give some evidence of having fully acknowledged the validity of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments But then it is to be noted that the Northern Democrats, no more than the Southern ex-rebels, acknowledge their validity They all, or nearly all, cherish a hope that they can upset them

Anxious as the ex-rebels may be for a complete removal of their disabilities, amnesty is not their right. It is a concession by the people of the United States, and not an act demanded by duty and justice No one need expect from the ex-rebels the slightest gratitude for amnesty Whoever looks for that will be signally disappointed When Senator Schurz asks "what hope will the Republicans have to win over to their cause any of the re-enfranchised, if they persist in resisting re-enfranchisement," he propounds a very foolish question The Republicans can win over none of them in any event. This, however, is not pertinent to the question The ex rebels will naturally vote Democratic, because they are Democrats. The rebellion was nothing but Democracy, fighting Hence, after all, rebels in arms were not so much worse, morally, than Northern Democrats who held their principles and abetted their cause It must be owned that so long as such men as McCreery, Jones and Mungen are accepted members of Congress, it looks almost farcical to keep anybody out because of his connection with the late rebellion

It is, however, desirable to keep a mark fixed upon the principal leaders of the revolt, and this will in all probability be done We look for the passage of Bingham's bill ere long, or of something like it.

The New Apportionment.

It is observed by the Chicago Tribune that the importance to the Central and Western States of having the reapportionment of Representatives in Congress made so as to include the Forty-second Congress, is heightened by the fact that, unless it is so made they will lose the influence to which they are entitled by virtue of their increased population, in the Presidential election The Constitution ([illegible] Sec 1 clause 2) provides that—

> Each State shall appoint, in such a manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress," etc

This language is held to mean that a State may appoint as many delegates as she has Senators and Representatives in Congress at the time of the election. The next Presidential election will take place in November, 1872, and, unless the reapportionment under the new census is made in time to give the Western States the additional representation to which they are entitled in the Forty-second Congress, they will lose from thirty to forty votes in the next Electoral College It is safe to judge, however, that the representation will be made in time to secure to those States this advantage.

The place which commands and controls the future trade of the Willamette Valley will be a city of great wealth and importance Ere many years this valley will contain half a million people, engaged in every variety of industries. Wherever its products are exchanged there will be a great busy mart Portland now is the point to which this growing trade tends. And Portland occupies such a position as will enable her to hold it, if she only manifests proper spirit and enterprise It will be the sole fault of Portland if the trade of the Willamette valley is suffered to pass by her doors to a point below.

The New York World advocates the election of General Frank Blair as United States Senator in place of Mr Drake Two years ago that individual received the Democratic nomination for Vice President, and the World not only urged on the eve of the election that he should be dropped from the ticket, but has since repeatedly condemned his nomination

Portland must remember that railroads are built and operated to make money, and not to accommodate people Therefore, citizens of Portland may rest assured that no railroad will ever be built here to accommodate them or their city They must make it to the advantage of the railroad men to build to this place That is the only way.

English Journals on the War

[From the Manchester Guardian]

The attentive observer of recent military events cannot have failed to notice that the character of the campaign has been completely changed We no longer hear of smashing defeats and surrenders en masse of armies whose soldiers are counted by the hundred thousand A success on one side to-day is balanced by a victory on the other to-morrow, little ground is won or lost in a whole week of hard fighting and the opposing forces are in all respects so nearly matched, that if the issue of the war depended solely on the results of the actual fighting it might well last for years instead of being finished before Christmas Certainly this altered condition of the strife is in many respects most unfavorable to the Germans who convinced that Gravellotte and Sedan had given them the power of crushing the French nation undertook the task of overrunning and conquering the whole of France Their hopes have already been terribly disappointed The Red Prince, who set out from Metz a month ago, with the intention of going as he himself told Gen Changarnier "partout partout partout" and never reining in his horse, except, perhaps to give orders for the bombardment of a town or two till he reached the shores of the Mediterranean, is still occupied with his whole force above Orleans in covering the investing army of Paris

[From the London Spectator]

Should the Germans begin to retreat, all France will hurl itself upon them, till it may be well said that in January English journals will be criticising with imperturbable inconsistency 'the reckless contempt of life and common sense so characteristic of the French in war' The very soldiers who ran will fight then, to the surprise of English mankind, who next day will quote with approval the description of Olive's felons, who in their first battle shrieked with fear, and in their last, under the same chief, conquered Bengal at odds of one to thirty Cannot our people, who are par excellence the people of travelers, understand that something other than 'a strip of silver sea' separates us from France that a race full of sentiment and emotion, of impulse and vanity, of genius and of daring, utterly dependent on its leaders, needing the brandy of success to evoke its courage, will not in a great crisis act like a stubborn borne people, as incapable of forming a device as of abandoning one when formed, which derives, if not new courage, new energy from defeat, and is as free from the liability to despair as it is wanting in the power to recruit its vigor on more hope? Cannot a nation of mechanics imagine that a people 'unstable as water' may be as incompressible as that element, or believe that water, once rigidly bound may force its way through iron? And above all, cannot we, with our unique experience in Ireland where the bravest race in the world skulk in fraze from the cause of their hearts, and fight like heroes in red for causes which they detest, comprehend that there are races to whose success in war there are certain precedent conditions, who need stimulants differing utterly in kind from those that we require? Those stimulants have, we believe, been found in France, and if both armies in the field are not crushed and crushed at once, we believe that within a month Englishmen will be compelled to confess their error, and allow that Republican France is the equal in war with any State in Europe—even of that terrible State in which a soldier King governs a people of soldiers as a martinet General would govern a camp, sacrificing half the ends of civilization to the discipline which is only divine when it secures them

Disappearance of an Island —A large island is missing. Captain Plock, of the bark Adolphe, bound from Iquique to London, states that while passing the new New Hebrides Islands, he discovered that Aurora Island had entirely disappeared, and no trace of it was to be seen on the face of the ocean where it was before situated What makes this occurrence more deplorable, says the Pall Mall Gazette, is that Aurora was one of the most fertile of the group of islands of which it formed a member. It was last seen in latitude 15 2 S, longitude 168 25 E It is described as having been about thirty-six miles in length and upwards of five miles in breadth. Any information respecting it will be thankfully received, and it becomes a question whether a reward should not be offered for its recovery If large islands take to disappearing in this fashion, we shall soon cease to congratulate ourselves on our "insular position" There is, however, this consolation—that if England were to disappear like Aurora Island, there would no doubt, be a rigid investigation made into the circumstances by the rest of the world France would miss a useful depot for her refugees, Ireland would suffer from ennui with no one to abuse, and we may rest assured that, unless we had previously settled the Alabama claims, America would never rest until she had fished us up again

A Frenchman who has Killed his Forty-third Sentinel —In looking over my files of journals, I find mention in September of a young man named Hoff, who boasted of having killed eight German sentinels The next report raised the number to twelve, and with each day of glory Hoff added to the number of his scalps Finally Sergeant Hoff became the event of the day, and when he had killed the thirtieth sentinel, General Trochu mentioned him with praise in the order of the day, his exploits were placarded over the walls of Paris, and—I am sorry to write it—the Governor publicly decorated him with the Cross of the Legion of Honor At the thirty-eighth sentinel the mode and manner of the killing was explained, the journals giving a very pretty biography of this young man evidently "born to be hanged," unless he gets himself shot very soon Ordering an air gun of a particular structure, which could be fired without any great report, Sergeant Hoff crept along upon his stomach under walls and hedges, until near enough to bring down some sentinel. As there was no report to alarm the guard, he could wait for the relief, and if made by one or two men, he was enabled to kill another before the alarm forced him to crawl away In this manner Sergeant Hoff has assassinated, according to the last report, his forty-third sentinel —N Y Times Paris correspondence

A correspondent of the Auckland Herald, of December 5th, says 'Through the kindness of Captain Wilson, I am enabled to send to you, for the information of the public intelligence, some very interesting phenomena that have just been witnessed in the seas—the fresh existence, in active operation, of two volcanic islands Some severe shocks of earthquake were felt a week previous to the appearance of the first volcano, enveloping all in a chaos of confusion—one shock dividing the island most effectually, and sending up with immense force from the centre of the harbor a continuous mixture of stones mud, charred wood etc to a height of about 2 000 feet These submarine disturbances of mother earth have of course thrown the Sunday Islanders into great adversity, and one family of whites, (American), found there by Captain Wilson would most likely have perished but for his timely assistance'

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes that Newfoundland is no longer under the military protection of England the last garrison having been recently removed from St John's after an occupation of more than a century "Not a single soldier,' adds the correspondent "has been left in the forts and the formidable batteries that guard the entrance of our harbor are now without cannon The huge Armstrong guns that used to protrude their black muzzles defiantly over the batteries lining the base and crest of Signal Hill, have all been shipped to Woolwich Only an old thirty-two pounder has been graciously bequeathed to us by the British Government, for the peaceful purpose of being fired each day at 12 o clock noon, to keep us 'up to the time of day'"

James Fisk, Jr., explains what he meant by 'gone where the woodbine twineth' 'You see I was before that learned and dignified body, the Committee on Banking and Currency, and when Garfield asked me where the money got by Corbin went to, I could not make a vulgar reply and say up a spout, but observing while pedling through New England, that every spout of house or cottage had a woodbine twining around it I said naturally enough, Where the woodbine twineth That is all It seems the Congressional cheesewaxes did not understand my delicacy nor my delicate allusion

Pursuit of Murderers

Pleasanton, Jan 12 —The officers in pursuit of the persons who committed the robbery and murder at Supervisor Scott's, have not yet returned, but it is rumored here this morning that two of them have been captured in Calaveras already by Constable Revillo, and that Sheriff Morse is still in pursuit of others They are supposed to be Mexicans.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

Fair Oaks, Jan 12 —The following are the particulars of a fatal accident which resulted in the death of John F Whalen The engineer saw him walking on the railroad track and whistled the customary signal He stepped off the track when the signal for down brakes was sounded, but too late, for the locomotive struck him before the train could be stopped He was conveyed to Redwood City, where he died.

Forger Arrested.

Santa Cruz, Jan 12 —A German named H G Wortmann was arrested to day on a charge of forgery. Papers found on his person, and brushes, stamps and blank checks taken from his valise, indicate that he has been extensively operating in the forgery business. The prisoner recently arrived from the East and admits having successfully disposed of some bogus drafts at Chicago.

Murder by Indians.

San Diego, Jan 12 —At Jamual Valley, yesterday, a German named Peter Miller was found dead in his house with a bullet hole through his head Two barefoot tracks were found leading from the house, and all appearances go to show that Indians were the perpetrators of the murder.

Suffering among the Indians

Cheyenne, Jan 12 —Information from Fort Laramie states that large numbers of Sioux, Cheyennes, Apaches and Grosventres Indians came in yesterday. They report buffalo very scarce These tribes are in a suffering condition. They say their people are starving They have asked for permission to go south to find buffalo, but have been refused The Indians are yet undecided in regard to where they will have their agency.

German Politics

PRUSSIA WEAKENED BY CONFEDERATION.

[Berlin letter (Dec. 2) to the Chicago Tribune]

There is anything but satisfaction here at the progress made in the direction of union. There has indeed been a union formed, which now includes all the Germans, except the ten millions in Austria But the more it has grown in extension, of late, the less it has become in the strength which holds and wields the parts, so that this progress suggests the children's riddle, namely, of something which the more it grows the smaller it becomes There are many who think that the German Confederation is now no better than the old Frankfort Confederation, which held Germany together before '66 The sovereignty of the other States has been destroyed, without giving any more power to Prussia. This, while it is especially objectionable to the Prussians, as Prussians, is a great disappointment to the friends of union everywhere, as it leaves no central power anywhere Prussia has rather become weaker through the late additions, because of the relative diminution of her power in the Bundesrath, where all vigorous measures must originate Whereas she before had seventeen votes out of forty three, she has now only seventeen out of fifty-eight And not only so, but a special advantage is given even to the smaller Northern States over Prussia, which will still more cripple the action of the central power These were before in such relations that Prussia could not control them easily by her preponderance in the Bundesrath. But now, by uniting with the South German States, they can, at almost any time, get a majority of that body. The error they make here is, that they persist in thinking, that some State, as Prussia, must take the lead and have the chief power, in order for a central government, and do not consider at all whether a central power could be constituted in which all the States should be equal, somewhat as in the United States And it is here the other States (besides the chief one,) will always be contending for independence, as being synonymous with liberty for them. They err further in not having a central power which does not rest principally in the Bundesrath, for this only gives occasion for quarrels of State with State, and does not allow the whole to make any bold or sudden movements The conservative party would blunder still further in this direction and have a Senate or Congress of the States to counteract, as they say, the liberal tendency of the Reichstag The union, it will be seen, is just strong enough and of a kind to cripple them And not only is the union such that it has no free motive, but through the changes recently effected, it will be more difficult hereafter to make any improvements so that we cannot satisfy ourselves with the hope that the present is merely the beginning and that it will by degrees grow to something better A one-fourth vote in the Bundesrath, instead of a one third vote, as heretofore, can prevent a change in the Constitution The enemies of the union seem to be everywhere satisfied, for they consider the late progress to be backward Bismarck, it is thought, is dissatisfied with the work, and will not be very sorry if it falls through in the course of ratification in the several Diets It would have been better if the negotiations had stopped with Baden and Hesse For, with these admitted on the ground of the former confederation, Prussia could have gotten along without Bavaria and Wurtemberg, whereas these could not have gotten along without the North German Confederation Perhaps the only explanation of why they are taken in at all just now is the enormous efforts of Beust to prevent their entrance into the North German Confederation, and to effect a union between them and Austria The patriotic papers of South Germany, as the Donau Zeitung, for example, attributes the whole misfortune not to the people, who in the South, as well as in the North, desire union, but to the several Courts of the South and to the Princes of Germany generally. There is little doubt but that the late change will be ratified by the different Congresses that have to pass on them, because of their particular character The liberals here content themselves with the thought that as the new confederation is anything but a liberal one, it is no disadvantage if it is not a strong one They had first sacrificed their liberty to it, and now they see their union sacrificed with little regret. To-day the discussions are commenced in the Reichstag on those matters, and will be continued for at least a week after which we will notice the further developments. On Friday they were discussed in the lobby of the National Liberal party and call forth general disapproval One of the chief questions that will come up in connection with them in the Reichstag, is whether the present Reichstag is competent to adopt a new constitution for Germany, setting aside for that purpose the one on which they were elected

There is also much complaint in regard to the complications of the new constitution there being four groups of States each in separate relations to the central power The present constitution, with the references to previous treaties, laws, &c, together with the explanation of these which is necessary for even a verbal understanding of the text, forms a book as large as the New Testament Of the seventy nine articles twenty eight have now been changed through omission or additions and the changes for Bavaria and Wurtemberg are to come in yet These are so large and numerous that some of the newspapers can scarcely find room to publish them but excuse themselves before the public for their omission or abreviation. There will be hereafter seven different documents that will contain the Constitution of the North German Confederation, and it will be a lawyer's task for a citizen to learn his right (or lack of rights) in accordance therewith

Exciting Incident in a Buffalo Hunt —The most innocent animal, when brought to bay, will fight This is also true with the wicked appearing buffalo, although he is generally in no wise dangerous On the first of December, 1870 two young but experienced hunters, named respectively Fisher, familiarly known as "Coon-skin,' and C H Miller, came upon a herd of buffalo near the Republican river, in the southern part of Nebraska They each selected an animal and fired wounding both One of the beasts, enraged by his wound, made a dash at Fisher who unfortunately, at the last shot had fastened in his gun a shell from the cartridge which, for the time being, rendered it useless, and this was the exact condition of Miller's rifle Fisher being without a revolver, Miller jumped between his friend and the brute, and fired without mortal effect The charging buffalo gave Miller a severe hurt knocking him about ten feet and tearing his coat with his horns from skirt to collar Luckily for the young man he came down erect upon his feet, but the enraged animal was upon him immediately, when, jumping over his head, he seated himself upon the buffalo's back, where, clinging to his mane, with revolver he shot him directly in the eye Both buffaloes were secured and brought to camp This story may appear a little fishy, but any member of the Republican Land and Claim Association who was of the party encamped in the vicinity at the time will vouch for its truthfulness.—Omaha Republican

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 13, 1871.

CITY.

DISGRACEFUL.—There is a class of half-grown boys in this city (and not a few men) who think it legitimate amusement and fine sport to play all sorts of tricks upon or to abuse Chinamen. Not long since a parcel of these bad boys, set a ferocious dog upon a Chinaman who was passing quietly along the street, and the poor fellow was badly bitten. It is no uncommon thing to see a gang of them pelting an inoffensive Chinaman with stones, for no offense whatever, except that he is a Chinaman and supposed to be without the means of redress. A case came within our observation, a day or two since, where a boy bully, nearly grown, tried to pick a quarrel with a Chinese boy. He exhibited his Caucasian valor by daring the Celestial youth to fight him. The latter having no occasion or desire to fight him, declined the challenge, whereupon the bully picked up a club and hurled it at the "coward," as he called the Chinaman, hitting him full in the face and inflicting a severe and painful wound. The valorous bully then took to his heels and escaped. A policeman made some search for him, but without success. The boy is probably under the impression that he did a brave thing, when, in fact, his act was that of a dastard, and cowardly sneak. If, however, the effect of the conduct of such boys were confined to themselves and the victims assaulted, the evil would be comparatively a slight one, but it often happens that number of other and smaller boys who only consider the brute bravery of the assault, are led into such disgraceful conduct, and are thus taught lessons in depravity, against which it is not always possible for parents to provide. It seems to us that there is an urgent necessity for some measure to arrest the fearfully rapid growth of juvenile lawlessness and depravity in this city. When will the Council consider the matter?

A CASE OF SUICIDE OR A CASE OF BILK.—A short time ago, a man who registered himself as G. W. Ford of Chicago, arrived in this city and put up at the American Exchange. He stayed there a few days, and then imagining that not sufficient attention was paid to a man of his caliber and standing, he left, without paying a cent, and went to the St. Charles, where he stayed a day or two and left without paying his bill. A few days ago he went to Vancouver and put up at a boarding house kept by a lady. During his stay here he borrowed money of several persons, and at Vancouver did the same thing. On Wednesday morning he got up about 5 o'clock, sat around the fire awhile and just before the time for the Oneonta to arrive, he started down toward the steamer landing, and has not been seen at Vancouver since. He left a coat and umbrella at his boarding house. In the pockets of his coat were some papers and a letter, the latter having directions on the envelop not to be opened till 1 o'clock P. M., and containing a declaration of his intention to drown himself. Afterward his hat was found in the river, and a general impression prevails at Vancouver that he committed suicide by drowning. Persons here who know him, and knew him to be a first-class bilk, are incredulous as to the suicide thereof, and express their belief that he took "French leave" on board the Oneonta, having manufactured the suicide appearances for the purpose of misleading parties interested in knowing his whereabouts. The latter theory is the more probable of the two, as bilks of his kind oftener run away than drown themselves. G. W. Ford has most likely "moved on" and nothing more.

PLEASE APPLY AT THIS OFFICE.—If the refined and "educated" gentleman who sent us, over the signature of "Oregonian," a batch of advice in regard to the proper manner of conducting this newspaper, will favor us with his real name, we shall be proud to make his acquaintance and to hold sweet converse with him. We are always happy to avail ourselves of the advantages of intercourse with gentlemen of tone and taste who thoroughly understand "pure and simple English," and whose ethereal souls abhor "slang and vulgarity." We pant every day to rise above the vulgar herd and range among the bright particular stars of the intellectual and moral firmament. Talk about aspirations! why, aspirations are our specialty. And since "Oregonian" has been kind enough to evince his interest in our affairs, the aspirations and soarings (in our poor feeble way) of our soul, after worthiness to look upon his face in the flesh, are enough to stir a marble heart. We implore "Oregonian" to give us a boost. If he cannot get down from his plane to our vulgar visual range, won't he please send us his photograph—that, at least, must be material enough to be looked upon in safety even to common mortal optics—or a lock of his auburn hair, and if he only would be kind enough to tell us whether he parts it in the middle! A little wee bit of condescension at this nick of time might render us ever after an ornament to refined society and a monument to the discernment of an "educated" gentleman. There be rough diamonds even in Webfoot, and we have had suspicions we belong to that class of clods. If a first-class artist only would rub himself against us, one part of our spirit would be gratified. We feel that our destiny as literary blazist is in the hands of "Oregonian," and on his broad shoulders we flop this responsibility.

MONEY ORDER BUSINESS.—We are indebted to Postmaster Wakefield for the following statement of the money order business of the post office in this city for the quarter ending December 31st, 1870:

No. of money orders issued, 546.

Amount received on money orders issued	$24,160 33
Fees collected on money orders issued	145 75
Amount of deposits from other postmasters	61,880 00
	$86,176 13
Amount of orders paid, for same time	$14,373 02
Amount of orders repaid	467 50
Amount furnished other postmasters	6,220 00
Amount forwarded to San Francisco	63,263 00
Balance cash on hand	1,342 61
	$86,176 13

The amount received and disbursed during the quarter amounts to $174,509 65. During the last week of the quarter the number of letters sent from this office averaged about 1,000 per day. This, too, was during the ice blockade.

TEETOTALISM AT KALAMA.—The gentlemen who have the management of things at Kalama have started out about right in regard to one thing: they have tabooed whisky mills. They have several times refused permission to parties to set up "shebangs" on their town site, and once or twice they have summarily removed persons who squatted in the neighborhood. A few days since a couple of men undertook to set up a mill on the little island in front of the town site, claiming that they had right to the island. The Company's agent soon convinced them, however, that the location was not a healthy one for a dram shop, and they took their stock to some other market. It is the intention of the Company to exclude such an element, while they have exclusive control, and they are right. It would be a vicious thing to have among the railroad hands just at present.

RAILROAD SUBSCRIPTIONS.—The following list of subscriptions was handed us last evening, by one of the committee:

Chas. A. Burhardt	$400	George Hartness	$200
S. D. Smith	200	J. H. Hatch	200
A. R. Rounell	200	Kohn & Fishel	150
J. Kraemer & Co	100	James B. Thompson	100
James H. Fisk	100	T. M. Richardson	100
W. W. Piper	100	O. W. Parish	100
Terence Rodgers	50	Allsky & Hegele	50
George B. Cook	50	H. H. Tuttle	25
W. H. Andrus	20

APPOINTMENT.—The Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Arizona is Dr. H. Bendell, of Albany, New York—lately appointed under the pious policy of President Grant. Dr. Bendell is an Israelite, and at the request of Senator Corbett, has tendered the appointment of Chief Clerk to the Superintendency to Mr. A. Rosenheim of this city. Mr. R. received notice of his appointment only yesterday, and has not yet determined whether he will accept it.

AN INVOLUNTARY BATH.—Mr. M. F. Manning, of East Portland, while crossing the river, yesterday, on the ferry boat, was thrown overboard by a severe concussion of the boat against the piles near the East Portland landing. He was standing near the edge of the apron, and was evidently not expecting the "jolt." He got out, however, by a little vigorous swimming, laughed with some good nature at his mishap, and went for a change of raiment.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—The well known firm of Barman Bros. has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Leopold Barman. The business, however, will be carried on at the old place in the Odd Fellows' Temple, and on the same scale as before.

STORMY WEATHER AT SEA.—The sea gulls, which fly inland very seldom except when stormy weather is prevailing or approaching their accustomed haunts, are numerous here just now, indicating rough weather at the mouth of the Columbia.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE BATES COMPANY.—A friend at the Dalles, writing to us, says: "The Bates Company played Tuesday evening to a fine house, notwithstanding there was a lecture and a ball the same evening, and the people are much pleased with them. Mrs. Bates made a great hit. I learn that the company will remain all the week."

PARTIES.—There were very pleasant and social gatherings last evening both at the Emmet Guard Armory and at Multnomah Engine House, and at both places, dancing was kept up till far past midnight.

CONCERT.—The "Taylor Family" and the "Vieuxtemps Brothers" will appear this evening at Philharmonic Hall in a grand combination entertainment. The Taylor Family—that's Mart—is a sort of protean institution, if we may take the bills for it, and will appear in about nineteen combinations with the other members of the troupe, by name Barney. We are not so numerously told what the Vieuxtemps will do, but we presume they will speak for themselves.

THE COURTS.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The waters of the Wallamet are again falling since the weather turned cold.

The stockholders of the "Wallamet Hotel Company" will have a business meeting this evening.

The total rain fall in December for ten rainy days, was four and four-tenths inches.

The Hattie C. Besse went to Oak Point yesterday to load with lumber for China.

A contract for the construction of the first twenty-five mile section of the North Pacific railroad has been let to Thos. Canda of Chicago.

Mr. J. B. Underwood left this city yesterday on a trip to Puget Sound, on business connected with the mail service.

The Beatty Troupe will play at Albany tonight and to-morrow night.

A Scene in Real Life.

To the Editor of the Boston Daily Advertiser: An incident so amusing, suggestive and withal so instructive, occurred to a friend a few days since, that I have begged her permission to transcribe it for the benefit of the public generally, and particularly for such persons as are obliged to employ ladies to assist them in their domestic affairs. My friend, whom we will call Mrs. Wilson, had applied at one of those most forlorn of all places, an intelligence office, and patiently awaited "returns." A ring at the lower door announced the first arrival (not the lower door—certainly not!) and my friend walked into her parlor and beheld the "lady," looking for all the world like a monk in a cowl and gown, enveloped, as she was, from top to toe in a black waterproof. There and then the following conversation took place:

Mrs. Wilson (daringly taking the initiative). "Have you been used to cooking?"

The Lady. "Yes," (patronizingly). "How many have you in your family?"

Mrs. W. "Eight."

The Lady. "How many children have you?"

Mrs. W. (somewhat surprised). "Three."

The Lady. "How old is your youngest child?"

Mrs. W. (annoyed but somewhat awed), "Eleven years."

The Lady. "How many girls do you keep?"

Mrs. W. (deprecatingly). "Two and a seamstress."

The Lady. "How old is your second girl?"

Mrs. W. (apologetically). "I really do not know."

The Lady. "Can't you form some idea of her age?"

Mrs. W. "None."

"The Lady. "What conveniences have you in your kitchen?"

Mrs. W. "All that are necessary." (She might have added that any want should be at once supplied, but by this time she became so confused that she found it quite difficult to determine in her own mind whether she was hiring or being hired.)

The Lady. "Have you a good store closet connected with your kitchen?"

Mrs. W. "We have."

The Lady. "I suppose you do not have rich cake or pastry made. The highest families now are giving them up entirely. They make no rich pies or cakes, but cook more meat and vegetables, and this hard gingerbread that you can chop with your teeth. Well, do you think we shall suit each other?"

During the delivery of this speech my friend had time to collect her frightened senses, but unwilling to disturb the placid self-complacency of her visitor, she merely replied in answer to this query: "No, I think you are qualified to fill a higher position." "Well," said the lady blandly, "I suppose I am," and they parted.

This being a verbatim report of an actual occurrence in our very city, it becomes a serious question, "Who are the mistresses?"

SEVENTEEN HUNDRED YEARS IN THE OVEN.—One house adjacent had evidently been in a state of repair when the volcanic storm buried it. Painters and decorators and cleaners were masters of the situation. The household goods were all in disorder, and the family, if out of town, must have been undergoing that condition of misery which spring cleanings and other like inflictions inevitably entail. Painters' pots and brushes, and workmen's tools were scattered around. Tell-tale spots of white-wash starred the floor and wall. Such domestic implements as pots, kettles and pans had been bundled up in a corner all by themselves, and the cook was nowhere. Dinner, however, had not been forgotten. A solitary pot stood simmering (if ever it did simmer) on the stove. And (start not, for it is true) there was a bronze dish in waiting before the oven, and on the dish a sucking pig, all ready to be baked. But the oven was already engaged with its full compliment of bread. So the sucking pig had to wait. And it never entered the oven, and the loaves were never taken out till after a sojourn of seventeen hundred years! They have been cooking ever since the 2d of November, A. D. 79. M. Florella has them now in his museum at Pompeii, twenty-one of them, rather hard, of course, and black, but perfectly preserved.—Leisure Hours.

A law suit of rather a novel nature has been instituted in the Westchester (N. Y.) County Court. The plaintiff, a man named Watson, claims damages in the sum of $5,000 for loss of time and money, through having been sent on a "wild goose chase" to Troy, at the last election, in order to prevent him from voting for a friend named Kenion, who was a candidate against the defendant, Lunny, for the office of Receiver of Taxes. Kenion was beaten by one vote, and an effort will be made at the trial to show that Lunny had concocted the story which caused Watson to leave for Troy.

December is here, with her storms and her rain,
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain.
Hark ye, dear gentlemen, this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O'NEIL & CO.
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof 'gainst the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply, that all who go there,
Unlike Flora McFlimsey, can find something to wear.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS
MILL FURNISHING GOODS, WOOD-WORKING
MACHINERY,
RUBBER AND LEATHER BELTING, FARM WAGONS, GRASS SEEDS, ETC., ETC.

The particular attention of the Farming Community is called to our recent importation of Improved MOLINE PLOWS, greatly superior to any other Moline Plow in the Market, notwithstanding a certain firm, somewhat noted for truth and veracity—"so-called"—persist in asserting that they are "bogus," "California made," etc.

Don't fail to call and look at one of the MOLINE PLOW Co's LATEST MAKE, and we think you will coincide with a Yamhill Farmer, who, after "looking 'round" and hearing the old story about bogus Molines, etc., delivered himself thusly. "Well, Myers, I'll just chance a couple of those new plows, and if they are 'bogus,' as that gassy chap above here says, I'll be d—arned if I won't take bogus in mine every time."

Next month we expect another shipment of those justly celebrated BAIN WAGONS, (Have now only a few left of the last lot,) STILL FURTHER IMPROVED over all heretofore received. It is not presumption on our part to say that they are head and shoulders above any other Farm wagon in market, in point of material, workmanship and finish, having achieved a reputation throughout the West, and wherever introduced on the Pacific, second to no other wagon Some of the first sold here—three years ago,—have never yet had a tire re-set, and our experience has enabled us to order many changes and improvements over the ordinary make of western wagons to meet the wants and requirements of this coast. We shall sell the BAIN WAGON at the lowest possible price for a first class wagon, and WARRANT them such, and in this connection beg to caution purchasers not to confound them with "inferior makes" that others are, or may endeavor to sell on the strength of the established reputation of the Bain manufacture, particularly after having made repeated and persistent efforts (without avail) to purchase wagons of Mr. Bain for this market.

CAUTION.

OFFICE OF THE HOME SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE, Boston, Mass., Dec. 14, 1870.

WE APPOINTED TRAVER BROS., OF Portland, Oregon, Nov. 1, 1869, our exclusive Agents for the sale of the HOME SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE in Oregon and the Territories of Washington, Idaho and Montana. We hereby give notice that no other parties have the right to appoint Sub-Agents or furnish them with machines. Another firm have made bogus Home Shuttle Sewing Machines and are now attempting to palm them off on the public as genuine machines, thus infringing on our rights and rendering themselves liable to prosecution. We caution all persons not to purchase Home Shuttle Sewing Machines in the territory named above from any parties except Traver Bros., Portland, or parties having a certificate of agency signed by them. Our new machines have valuable improvements.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

This Remedy does not simply relieve for a short time but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of Chronic Nasal Catarrh, and I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. "Cold in the head," and Catarrhal Headache are cured with a few applications. If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, stopping up of the nose at times, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull, have pain or pressure in the head, you may rest assured that you have Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in Consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. I will send my pamphlet on Catarrh to any address free. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is now

SOLD BY MOST DRUGGISTS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Price 50 cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 60 cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private Stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. Remember that this private Stamp, issued by the United States Government expressly for stamping my medicines, has my portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness" engraved upon it, and need not be mistaken. Don't be swindled by travelers and others, representing themselves as Dr. Sage; I am the only man now living that has the knowledge and right to manufacture the genuine Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I never travel to sell this medicine

THE INTEREST AND RESPONSIBILITY OF MR. J. B. Knapp in our firm [illegible]
KNAPP, BURRELL & CO
Portland, January 2, 1871

GENERALITIES.

It is said that Kaw Indians salt the railroad track in order to entice cattle in front of the cars, so that they can get the carcasses. Now who doubts that the Indian can be civilized?

The Mattoon (Ill.) Journal says a candidate in that district is bewailing the fact on every stump in that district, that the "tax is taken off peaners, what we don't use, and kept on whiskey—what we do."

Chase, the "father of greenbacks," has been able to retain only a few of his children. They turned their backs on him and went off among strangers as soon as they were born. They have met with a good deal of change, but have all of them done well and are worth money. It is hoped they will ultimately return to par.

As good an instance of "sharp practice" as we have ever heard of, is that of a man in Ohio, who was acquitted of murder on a plea of insanity. He had secured his lawyers by giving them a mortgage on his farm, but now repudiates the mortgage on the ground that according to the showing of these very same lawyers, when he made the mortgage he was insane.

Wooden weddings, tin weddings, glass weddings, silver and gold and diamond weddings, and weddings of all kinds of material, have become so popular, that a leather wedding on the seventh anniversary has been added to the list. Among the presents suitable are trunks, valises, boots, shoes, harness, saddles, hides, calf-skins, pelts, leather aprons, machine belts and fire hose.

A Piute Scene.

The White Pine News, is responsible for the annexed sketch:

It is the custom, to sneer at the untutored native male of sageland, as devoid of all sentiment, possessing none of the impulses characteristic of the Caucasian anti-coolie rioters. It is a mistake. The poor Indian has his inward monitor. It may, when his stomach flops its walls one against the other, float low in him; and close observation will discover noble traits in the untutored son of the desert.

Only a few days ago, down near Palisade, we witnessed a touching incident which we [illegible] forget. An Indian standing full [illegible] feet high in his moccasins, was accompanied by his wife, a squaw about five feet in height. They were evidently laying in provisions for Thanksgiving. The noble red man carried nothing, but the squaw was loaded with a sack of flour, two rabbits, a small quantity of beans and a bundle of sundries together with her husband's rifle, which lay across the top of the pack. Tenderly the noble brave watched the tottering steps of her he loved, as she toddled along [illegible] their darling little boy—the pride of the wigwam. But the most affecting part is to be told. The woman was heavily loaded, and had to pause occasionally, and put off her pack and rest; and on these occasions her husband kindly assisted in unloading her, and as kindly repacked her after she had rested. Most of these he Indians let the squaw do her own loading and unloading; hence our astonishment at witnessing the affection of our hero.

The meanest man in Philadelphia has been discovered. He bought a copy of a penny paper from a small newsboy, tendered him a counterfeit twenty-five cent note and received twenty-four cents in change. The poor little victim did not discover the imposition until too late to remedy it. Upon realizing his loss he burst into tears, which were only assuaged upon receiving from a charitable gentleman the full amount of his heavy loss. If that man doesn't see more frightful goblins on Christmas eve than Scrooge saw in Dickens' story, there is no sort of use in having goblins.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Thursday, Jan. 12, 1871.

Gold at New York, 111 3-16.

Legal tenders, 90¼@91c.

Portland currency quotations, 90@91c.

Exchange on San Francisco—coin, ¼ of 1 per cent.; currency 1½ per cent.

Exchange on New York, 1½ per cent.; telegraph transfers, 1¾ per cent.

U. S. 5-20 bonds quotable at 108@110½ for 1862 and 1867.

Rates of interest unchanged, at 1@1½ per cent.

Oregon Bounty and Relief bonds, 85a87½c; State warrants, 97c@par.

Dealers, generally, represent the money market as easy, and bills are collected without difficulty. The demand for business purposes, is rather light and deposits at the bank are increasing.

In trade departments, there is but little doing in any lines except it may be a few staples, the demand for which is not affected by the season. The dry goods trade has dropped down to nearly nothing, and the same may be said of agricultural goods. A few wagons are selling, and occasionally a lot of plows, but beyond this the trade is stagnant. Hardware has become quiet though small orders are still coming in. Groceries go [illegible] out in only small lots to keep up interior [illegible] assortments. The aggregate of January sales thus far is small compared with the preceding months, but larger than for the corresponding period of 1870. The amount of sales returned to the U. S. Assessor for the year 1870, including liquors, tobacco and cigars, was $6,517,000.

There is very little doing in produce, beyond the loading of a couple of vessels with wheat, and supplying small orders from San Francisco or Puget Sound. The tendency of wheat is still to higher prices. Oats are scarce and wanted at our quotations. Provisions remain as last week except that bacon is weaker if anything than then.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchases from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES, o28tf d1aw Land Agent O. & C. R. R. Co., Salem.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE U S FOR THE DIStrict of Oregon.—Whereas, Information has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, on the 6th day of January, 1871, on behalf of the United States by J. C. Cartwright, Esq., Attorney of the said United States for the District aforesaid, against one large wooden tank of Beer containing about 200 gallons; three large empty wooden tanks; one small empty wooden tank with pump, five hogsheads of Beer containing 100 gallons each; two hogsheads of Beer containing 60 gallons each; three barrels of Beer containing 43 gallons each; sixteen kegs of Beer containing 10 gallons each; eight kegs of Beer containing 5 gallons each; two empty casks, capacity 40 gallons; one empty cask, capacity 100 gallons, twenty-four empty kegs capacity 5 gallons each, two empty kegs, capacity 15 gallons each, fifteen empty kegs, capacity 10 gallons each; one malt mill, and one horse power; one force pump and hose, one malt dryer, one mettle cooler, one copper brew kettle capacity 250 gallons; one malt scoop iron; one malt scoop wood, one pump not in use; two earthen jars; one sprinkler; one funnel, two ladles, one thermometer; one tin gallon measure, two wrenches, two branding irons; one burning iron, one hop rake, two hundred beer bungs, one sieve; one Fairbank's scales, which by Wilson Bowlby, Esq., Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Oregon, on the 29th day of November, 1870, at Corvallis, in said District of Oregon, was seized as forfeited to the use of the said United States, for the reasons and causes in said information mentioned, and praying the usual process and monition of the said Court in that behalf to be made, and that all persons interested in the said one large wooden tank of Beer, &c., may be cited in general and special, to answer the premises and all due proceedings being had that the said property above mentioned may, for the causes in the said information mentioned, be condemned as forfeited to the use of the said United States. Now, therefore, in pursuance of the Warrant under the seal of said Court, to me directed and delivered, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said above mentioned goods or any part thereof, or in any manner interested therein, that they be and appear before the said District Court, to be held at the city of Portland, in the county of Multnomah, in said District of Oregon, on the 6th day of March next at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day if the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise, on the next day of jurisdiction thereafter, then and there to interpose a claim and to make their allegations in that behalf. TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his chief special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not fail, with the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
